

2nd Annual

Reforestation Weekend with Common Vision

May 29th-May 31st

The Project

- Reforesting 5 acres of fire-damaged Mendocino National Forest
- Planting over 1,500 trees
- Open to 30-60 participants
- Weekend includes – organic vegetarian meals, tree planting, camping, morning yoga classes, and campfire singing
- Cost to participants – sliding scale $75-100 with scholarships available
- Veggie-oil powered transportation options

Let your customers know you care!

PLANT TREES TODAY ~ $250 Sponsorship

- Your logo included on all fliers to be posted at Whole Foods Markets, and select Organic Co-ops in the Bay Area, Sacramento, Marin, Grass Valley and Mendocino.
- Your logo on all web documentation including the Common Vision home page, Common Vision's newsletter reaching 4,500 readers, and all outreach to the green community.
- Common Vision has solid relationships with print, television, and radio media. Sponsors will be included in all media releases.

Common Vision has run successful annual tree-planting projects for the last six years that have worked with over 45,000 people and planted over 3,500 fruit trees and over 2,000 forest trees across California . There's never been a more important time to plant trees and join together in service for the future. We look forward to working with you.

www.commonvision.org